

ST Multimedia Presentation System

from ST Concepts, Inc.

Presenting an effective message to an audience is never an easy task, which is why your presentational technology can not be an obstacle. At the push of a button, the ST Multimedia Presentation System will allow the end user to display a computer presentation, VCR, DVD or document camera on a 100 inch projection screen with high resolution quality. Operators can easily switch between video sources and adjust the audio levels with the intuitive control system, allowing them to concentrate on their presentations, not the technology.
